FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

DURHAM PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The Trustees of the Durham Public Library submit the following annual report for the year ending Feb. 15, 1896: The board organized March 23, 1895, with Hon. Joshua B. Smith, President; Lucien Thompson, Secretary; and Miss Mary E. Smith, Treasurer and Librarian. The two vacancies on the board were filled by the re-election of Hon. Jeremiah Langley and the election of Jabez H. Stevens. Daniel T. Woodman, as Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, became a Trustee ex-officio in March, 1895.

During the past year one hundred sixty books and magazines have been presented to the Library, and two hundred fifty-seven books have been purchased, making the total number now in the Library forty-seven hundred sixty-seven books.

The average circulation has increased from one hundred seventy-five to two hundred books per week.

The donations of books, pamphlets and magazines continue annually, and in grateful appreciation we have noted them in appendix.

The need of more space for books required extra shelving in the second stosy, and the expense for same, with that of a door in the north end of the building, was charged as incidental expenses. During the cold weather it was found to be impossible to properly heat the front room, owing to the constant opening and closing of the outer door, and this was remedied by putting in a door in the rear room in place of the window on the east side. This was done at the expense of the Durham Library Association.

The Trustees appreciate the valuable aid of our Librarian in increasing the usefulness of the Library, and trust that her services may be long retained.

The usefulness of the Library has been especially increased during the past year by allowing students or citizens to have the benefit of a number of books at a time to aid them in any line of study or investigation, and we hope the privilege thus afforded may be appreciated.

During the past year Mrs. Lydia Simpson passed away, leaving nearly all her property for the future religious and educational improvement of the town, and the terms of her will are given in the appendix, the conditions of which the town should gratefully fulfil when the same becomes available. The bequest of eight thousand dollars, more or less, to the Durham Library Association for the purposes named in the will is an additional reason the town should faithfully comply with its contract with the Durham Library Association in order that all, rich or poor, may continue to receive free use of the combined libraries.

We will close our report by quoting the remarks of the Librarian of Congress, made at the dedication of the New Hampshire State Library Building:

“In the companionship of books we move across the centuries and mingle with every race and every age. They bring us acquainted with the fair forms of truth and poetry, and reveal to us the genius and the virtue that have illustrated the annals of mankind. Good books are among the few real things of life; they are the only pleasure in which there is no alloy. 'Some books,' says Petrarch, 'teach us how to live, and others how to die.' Through them the spirits of the dead, not mortal, but immortal, hold free converse with us. Through them each one of us may become endowed with the storied wisdom of 6000 years. The world of books is a realm as large as the universe, and its noblest creations take hold on the Infinite. They open to us inexhaustible treasures of learning; they awaken the reason, they kindle the imagination, they cultivate the memory, they refine the taste, they delight us in health, they comfort us in sickness. they enliven the fancy, they quicken the conscience, they purify the soul; they cheer the desponding, they strengthen the weak, they lighten our cares, they soften our griefs, they enhance our joys, they energize and ennoble the mind. They, and they alone, hold that which is imperishable in man; that which survives centuries, conquers oblivion and triumphs over the grave."

Respectfully submitted,

LUCIEN THOMPSON,

For the Board.

ANNUAL REPORT
— OF —
THE BOARD OF EDUCATION,
For the Year Ending Feb. 15, 1896.

Agreeable to custom, we herewith submit to you a report of the schools in the town of Durham. After the election of a new member of the School Board, we received the resignation of one member of the Board, Mrs. Lizzie G. Thompson, making it necessary for the remaining members to appoint some person to fill the vacancy, which we did by appointing Mrs. Hattie S. Watson a member of the Board for the year ending March, 1896.

We feel that the schools have made fair progress in their work for the year, averaging well with the past. We made a change in the teachers of the Village School, as there was a very marked unpleasantness between them. After making a thorough (and we think impartial) investigation, we decided to make the change. As there should be harmony in all institutions, there should be harmony in our schools.

After continuing the school at the Village one term and closing the school year, it seemed best to make some change in the work taken up the past year, which seemed to be more than could be carried on with the facilities we now have, and to ask the tax-payers to contribute to the school fund enough to carry on the work begun and continue the schools thirty or thirty-two weeks in the year would be more than could be reasonably asked. You will be asked this coming school meeting to raise an additional sum to the amount raised by law to keep up the present length of schools. We have had the proceeds of the sale of old school houses, amounting to about eight hundred and fifty dollars, in addition to the amount raised by law for school purposes for the past two years.

You will be asked this coming meeting to raise a sum of money for insurance of school buildings, which expires this coming year. This should be done, as it seems wise to have buildings insured.

The Bridge District scholars are being carried to the Village School, saving some expense and proving to be of advantage to the scholars. We have continued the school at Mast Road, and there is a good prospect that this school will have to be continued.

The number of scholars that we have to pay tuition for at Newmarket is on the increase, making the expenses larger each year. It seems well that the tax-payers should consider well their expenditures, not overlooking their duty to the scholars in town, and give them good schooling advantages, and thus enable them to make the most of their abilities to become useful men and women.

As a whole, the school buildings in town are in good preservation, and at the present time need but little repairing. The Point school building may need some repairs at no distant future, as the brick wall on one side has settled, showing quite a break in the plastering. This may need repairs at an uncertain time. In view of this fact, you will be asked to make provision. As retiring member I would ask that harmony be maintained on the School Board, that all necessary improvements may be in order.

Respectfully submitted,

DANIEL T. WOODMAN,

For the Board.

Board of Education.

REPORT OF TREASURER
OF THE
DURHAM SCHOOL DISTRICT,
For the Year Ending Feb. 15, 1896.

The following financial statement shows the receipts and expenditures of school funds for the year just ended.

It was evident at the commencement of the year that the available funds could not possibly maintain the desired 32 weeks of school unless expenses could in some way be cut down. As will be seen in the financial exhibit, there were a considerable number of bills unavoidably brought over from the preceding year, there were also two weeks of school to be made up in the Mast Road school, as suggested in last year's report. Altogether, these expenses aggregate nearly $170.00, a sum belonging wholly on last year's expense account, but paid from this year's funds. It will also be seen that changes in the school laws necessitated a careful enumeration of school children in the town, and required "exercises of a patriotic nature on the last school session preceding Memorial Day." These involve some expenses not hitherto necessary. It is with satisfaction, therefore, that we are able to state that the 32 weeks standard has been maintained, all old bills have been paid, and the expenses of the present year met, with the exception of one small bill not yet received, and all within the available school funds.

The President of the Board has suggested in his report that larger appropriations will be needed for the ensuing year, and I have prepared an estimate based upon past expenses, which must come very close to the amount that will be necessary to carry on the present number of schools for 32 weeks. The estimates are made very close and include extra money for reinsuring school houses and for making repairs which seem absolutely necessary.

The chief reason why a larger appropriation will be necessary this year, is this:—

The money derived from the sale of the two Village school houses has been used for the past three years in place of the usual extra appropriation, but as that fund is now exhausted it again becomes necessary to raise extra money as was previously done. The book fund, estimated from the past, ought to be at least $200.00, as it is impossible to keep much, if any, below that amount.

The receipts from regular tax, Literary fund, Dog fund and Book fund will, not vary much from

$1,775 00

General expenses, exclusive of insurance and repairs, will under the most favorable circumstances amount to

$2,400 00

Insurance, about,

100 00

————— $2,500 00

Estimate of amount needed,

$725 00

This, it seems to me, is the least that can be expected to maintain the present standing and length of our schools.

* This sum includes the expense of two weeks school at Mast Road which had to be made up this year, an expense which should have been in last year's accounts. It also includes $9.00 overpaid and returned by Miss Otterson.

† These bills properly belong to the accounts of last year, and should be added to last year's expenses if a comparison of the expenses for last year and this is to be made, e. g., $$2,254.11 + 152.31 = $2,406.42$, cost of schools for '94-5. These bills could not be paid last year as the schools did not close in season.
